

WIFE SAVERS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

Potato Salad.—Boil six or eight medium-sized potatoes, peel them while hot, and have ready the following dressing: One egg yolk, beaten slightly, then add salad oil, a few drops at a time, until mixture starts to get thick. Continue beating and add oil a little faster. One egg yolk will take up about one-quarter pint of oil. Now put the oil mixture over hot diced potatoes, stirring lightly, then salt and pepper to taste. Put about three tablespoons vinegar over salad. Mince good-sized onion and put in. Serve on lettuce leaves (when salad has been chilled). Garnish with hard-boiled eggs. This deviates from the beaten path, by not using lemon juice or vinegar in oil dressing. Vary by lining edge of plate with sliced tomatoes.

Cheese Surprise.—Break one-quarter young cream cheese into bits and mix with it, to a smooth paste, two tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt, Cayenne pepper. Toast six slices of bread, and spread them with cheese mixture lay in flat pan and put in hot oven for five minutes. Serve hot or once.

When using molasses that is not as dark as desired for this color, but flavors as well.

FURNISHING THE PORCH

Tartan sofa cushions are up-to-date for the porch, especially where there is wicker furniture. Chrome and chintz are also used, and plain satons is combined with them in some of the latest pillows. Striped awning cloth used as a head rest is also new and good-looking. Mission chairs may be made attractive for the porch with a coating of jade green paint. Luster painted baskets come in many gay colors and may be used on the porch as scrap baskets or to hold flowers or fruits.

Grilled Sardines.—Take the fish from the can and drain. Place on a hot broiler for a moment or so and serve with lemon.

Rice Croquettes.—One-half cup rice, one-half cup boiling water, one and one-fourth cups milk, one-fourth cup cream, two tablespoons chopped canned pimentos, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne. Soak rice over night in cold water to cover. Drain, add boiling water and cook in double boiler until rice has absorbed water; then add milk and cook until rice has absorbed milk. Add cream, pimentos (chopped and drained), salt and cayenne. Spread in plate, cool, shape, dip in flour, egg and crumbs, fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. Pile on serving dish, pour cheese sauce around, and garnish with parsley.

When your ecur curtains have faded, the old color may be obtained by mixing coffee with your starch. If it is an ecur color. Do not rinse your curtains in bluing.

FROZEN DESSERTS

Plain vanilla ice cream is a true food and may often serve as the only dish for a hot noonday lunch. Children should be freely given any cream which is pure and simple, but it must be eaten slowly, and not after an otherwise hearty meal. Nuts and candied fruits in creams should not be served to children, but many kinds of fresh fruit creams made at home are the best hot weather foods when eaten with simple cake or other light accompaniment.

Vanilla ice cream can be used in iced cantaloup, in milk punches, or pie, and in various other ways, to add a refreshing touch.

A good plan for preparing cream mixtures is to make them late in the afternoon and place them in a scrubbed freezer can over night. This preliminary chilling will enable the actual turning and freezing to take not over fifteen minutes. The same should be done with the mixtures which are to be set in ice without stirring.

Crisp Corn Bread.—One cup each flour and cornmeal, an egg, a teaspoon each baking powder and soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar, one cup rich warm water. Reserve water and soda, beat other ingredients together. Dissolve soda in water, add to batter and beat thoroughly. Pour one inch thick in large baking pan and bake in brisk oven until a rich brown.

Pea Pod Soup.—Reserve pods from shelled peas, wash and cook for fifteen minutes; strain, being careful to press out all the juice. To each cup of liquid add one cup of rich milk and a tablespoon each of flour and butter, season to taste and cook ten minutes in a double boiler.

Pan Broiled Ham.—Fry ham quickly, turning often; sprinkle thickly with maple (or brown) sugar and put under burner until sugar is melted.

White flannel skirts should be washed in lukewarm water and white soap shaved fine. Do not rub. Rinse well but do not wring them, and hang in the shade. Iron on the wrong side when almost dry.

FURNISHING HINTS

The busy housekeeper will rejoice in the news that three-piece cretonne window curtains come all hemmed ready to hang. There is a pointed over-valance for the top of the window, and side drapes.

The low foot bed is popular even in painted sets, and the crinkle cloth bedspreads are most practical for summer. They come in pretty colors and may be laundered without a "choise cut," as threads of artificial silk which give them a silky luster.

Cheese Sauce.—Melt three tablespoons butter, add three tablespoons flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually one and one-half cups milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point, add one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and one cup mild cheese, grated or cut in small cubes.

Prune and Nut Ice Cream.—One-half cup prunes, one-half cup pecan nut meats, one and one-half cups cold water, one cup sugar, four tablespoons lemon juice, one and one-fourth cups heavy cream, one-eighth teaspoon salt. Soak prunes over night in cold water. Cook in same water until soft, remove stones, and put through a wire strainer. Add sugar, nuts, lemon juice, salt, cream beaten until stiff; then freeze.

A box that had seen better days in the house but had not entirely outlived its usefulness was utilized by one enterprising woman to hold all sorts of odds and ends on the porch and also as an extra porch seat. It was given several coats of green enamel topped with a moisture-proof shellac. On the sides were colorful motifs in vermilion, blue and yellow, these also being shellacked. A padded cover of black oilcloth stuffed with cotton wool and ornamented at the corner with tassels made of bright red leather cut in narrow strips was made and fastened on the cover. It made of bright red leather of furniture. Cushions, strays magazines and books, rubbers, etc., all went into it when not in use and were kept safe and dry.

Bar le Duc.—Eight pounds red currants, two cups water; boil until tender and if you desire it to be seedless, mash through wire strainer. Grind and boil the peel of two lemons and four oranges in a little water until tender, drain and add to currants. Add eight pounds of sugar and the juice of four lemons and eight oranges, boil fifteen minutes, add one pint honey, and seal in glasses.

Bar le Duc No. 2.—One quart currants, one cup raisins, rind, juice and pulp of two oranges, juice of one lemon, one-half cup nut meats. Wash currants, put orange rind through meat grinder, add it and the pulp and juice of the oranges and lemon to the currants and raisins, add three-fourths cup sugar to each cup of fruit, and cook until it jellies—about fifteen minutes. After cooking add nut meats that have also been run through the grinder. Stir constantly while cooking.

Cherry Preserves.—Two pounds cherries, weighed after stoning, one and one-half pounds sugar. Add the sugar to the stoned cherries and bring them quickly to the boiling point. Cook rapidly until the fruit is clear, skimming as necessary. Pour at once into clean hot jars and seal.

Cherry Conserves.—Three pints pitted sour cherries, one pint black raspberries, two and two-thirds cups sugar. Combine ingredients and cook until thick and clear.

HATS

Some Are Large, Some Are Small — All Are Pretty

By MME. LISBETH

The tailored type of hat seems to have almost eclipsed the flower garden party variety. Even with the summer frocks the small hat embellished with chenille and wool-embroidery, feather fancies, ribbon, etc., seems favored. Possibly this is because the tailored type of frock is universally worn—straight, slim things of linen or knit material with or without belts, and if there is trimming it consists largely of pipings and bands.

Lace is popular, too, but on these frocks that you see on every hand on the street it is usually applied in straight lines so as to preserve the tublike effect.

The hat at the top of the picture sounds a new note in crowns which had its origin in Paris. It somewhat resembles a man's top hat and has a square high crown. This one is made of black satin and is trimmed with a ribbon bow of the same. I venture to say that the type will not be generally popular, as it is a trying shape—very severe—and only a certain type of woman could wear it becomingly.

In Paris it is equally smart with rolled (as here) or straight brim.

In the center is a neat little hat that is shaped much like the felt sport hats so well liked this season. The brim has an upward tilt and a natty feather fancy is placed at the side.

A more dressy type of hat is the
